DR. PHIL SHOW: “New Parenting Styles.” Are you a parent who is over- or under-involved in your child's life? Dr. Phil talks with a self-proclaimed Helicopter Mom, a Free-Range mother and two experts to help you find a happy balance while raising your kids. First up, you won't believe what happened to Lori when she let her 10-year-old son walk to soccer practice by himself. Next, meet two moms with opposite parenting approaches: Kristen lets her kids walk to friends' houses on their own and make their own mistakes, while Beckie says she can't imagine letting her kids walk around the neighborhood or even to the school playground unattended. Find out what Dr. Phil thinks. Then, Linda Murray, editor-in-chief of BabyCenter.com and Dr. Michele Borba, a parenting educator and author, share the pros and cons of different parenting styles. And, Dr. Phil checks in with Teresa, who became known as America's Most Over-Protective Mom. Find out if she and her daughter, Ashlee, who's now 18, are getting along better. 1/5/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: Dr. Phil and special guest Dr. Jim Sears, pediatrician and co-host of the hit show, THE DOCTORS, tackle five childhood behaviors that often leave parents frustrated. Has your child started stealing? Do you have a picky eater, a bossy tween or a daughter who throws tantrums over what to wear? Has your child developed a sudden intense fear or phobia? Do you wonder if you're picking the right battles? Tune in as Dr. Phil and Dr. Sears shed some light on these behavior problems and reveal the parenting Dos and Don'ts when dealing with them. 1/21/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: Is your household in turmoil? Do you feel overwhelmed by your child's temper tantrums? Dr. Phil reveals the best solutions for common parenting dilemmas, and he has help from educational consultant Dr. Michele Borba. Lizette and Ricky have four children under age 6, and they say their 3-year-old daughter's behavior is completely out of control. They say she hits, scratches, yells and screams, and her meltdowns are rubbing off on her siblings. Find out what happens when Dr. Borba makes a house call. Then, learn why Lizette says she left home for a month! Plus, Stefani and Shenan are engaged and struggling to blend their families. She has four kids and he has three, but when all seven of them are together, they say it's utter madness! Dr. Phil and Dr. Borba have advice for keeping the peace. 1/26/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: Ending a relationship is never easy, but when there's a child in the mix, it becomes even more complicated. Tisha and Peter are getting divorced and battling over custody of their two children. Peter says his soon-to-be ex-wife “doesn't deserve to have the title of mother,” and he's fighting her for 50/50 custody of their kids, who are 10 and 11. Tisha has full legal and physical custody of the children and says if she ever turns up missing, her family “will know who did it.” With allegations of abuse and parental alienation syndrome, this ugly battle has put the kids in the middle. Legal analyst Lisa Bloom joins the show on Tisha's behalf, civil and family attorney Areva Martin joins in on Peter's behalf, and Dr. Phil takes the children's side, as all five adults try to make progress toward a peaceful agreement. Plus, learn tips to improve your chance of gaining custody if you're going through this battle. 2/10/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: Teens today seem to be more obsessed with love than ever, and many parents are concerned about the extreme measures their daughters are taking to get and keep a boyfriend. Could the obsessive tendency stem from the TV shows teens watch and the music they listen to? Dean and Lahna say their daughter, Chloe, 17, is obsessed with her boyfriend, Dusty, and they can't stand him. They say he is a dope-smoking high school dropout who lives on a friend's couch and has taken thousands of dollars from their daughter. Chloe says her parents have it all wrong. She says she and Dusty are just friends, and her parents haven't even given him a chance. What does Dr. Phil think? And you may be surprised to hear

Dusty's thoughts on the situation. Tensions rise as Chloe makes shocking remarks to her mother and walks offstage. Will she return to the show and agree to work on the relationship with her parents? 2/11/10

10TV NEWS HD: "Teen Pregnancy." A recent survey found that teenaged pregnancy rates are rising for the first time in a decade. But the Columbus Center for Healthy Families is trying to fight that trend by pairing each new teenage mother with a mentor. The mentor helps her navigate the system when it comes to child care, finding pediatricians, birth control, and staying in school. The goal is to keep teen mothers from having a second child and sliding into a lifetime of poverty. 2/19/10, 5pm TRT: 1:38 (Andrea Cambern)

First on the agenda: Is yelling the new spanking? Jenn says she screams so much that her sons have nicknamed her “Old Yeller.” Dr. Phil gives the mom an earful about her loud behavior. Then, is it ever OK to discipline a stranger’s child? Should you let your baby cry it out? Dr. Phil’s panel weighs in on these parenting dilemmas and more. Plus, Tania says she dreamed of having children, but now she says she’s sick of motherhood. Learn why she says she’s tired of this role. 1/15/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: “Controlling Husbands.” What should you do if you feel like your life is completely controlled by your spouse? Courtney says her husband, Paul, is obsessed with her. She says he deletes her e-mails, keeps her from having friends, has to know her whereabouts all the time and texts her every minute of the day. After Dr. Phil conducts an experiment with the couple, will Paul admit his fears and realize that his behavior is pushing his wife away? Then, Aimee says her husband, Billy, tells her how to drive, cook, parent and clean, and if they can't get their control issues under control, they're going to be divorced. Billy says his wife is overdramatic, and she's the one who controls the sex in the marriage, and that's the position of power. 2/3/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: How do you define a modern woman, and how does this role change when it comes to money, marriage and motherhood? Helping Dr. Phil sort it all out is his expert panel, ranging from legal analysts, to TV personalities to comedians. First up, Meredith, a nurse, is the breadwinner for her family, while her husband, William, stays home to care for their three children. The househusband says that since he doesn't bring home the bacon, he feels like less of a man. Dr. Phil's panel weighs in on women who out-earn their spouses. Then, Lori Gottlieb, author of Marry Him: The Case for Settling for Mr. Good Enough, says women should stop ruling out potential suitors on superficial criteria. Find out what several outspoken Dr. Phil staff members have to say about settling. 2/17/10

DR. PHIL SHOW: There are killers among us, and they could take you or your loved one out. They're not terrorists ... they're mothers who get drunk and then get behind the wheel, often with their kids in the car. More moms than ever admit that they sneak a drink or two while caring for their children. Dr. Phil does an experiment onstage wearing impairment goggles. You won't believe what you see! Then, Erin says her good friend, Mary, drinks 12 to 18 beers a day and has even driven with her children in the car. Get a glimpse into a day in Mary's life, and see how her love of alcohol is taking an ugly toll on her. After getting two DUIs, being confronted by a parent who smelled alcohol on her breath, receiving a grave wake-up call on Dr. Phil's stage and hearing her daughter's emotional plea, will Mary decide to put down the beer and pick up the pieces of her life? 2/18/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: Live To Tell: "Kidnap on Highway 1" - In November 2007, Chris and Debra Hall, and their children, Tyler and Divinia, were driving back to California from Mexico, when they were pulled over a few miles from the U.S. border by what they thought were police. A man in a military uniform approached and suddenly put a gun to Chris' head. Moments later the family was ambushed by a second car of gunmen. As the kidnapers drove them onto a dirt road in the mountains outside Tijuana, they began asking about a race car. While in Mexico, Chris and Tyler worked as part of a pit crew at the Baja 1000. When Chris explained that there was no race car, the men ransacked the family's trailer and then took them farther into the mountains. The gunmen put the family in a ditch and threw sleeping bags over them. As the Hall family lay hugging in the ditch, the men drove away. Ultimately the Halls crawled through the brush in the night to a house where a woman took them in and called police for help. Despite her assurances that they could trust these officers, the family could not help but fear they were in danger all over again. The authorities rushed them to the border. For the moment they were safe, but with the gunmen in possession of their drivers' licenses and their address, they will carry the memory of that traumatic night with them. Mexican authorities never investigated the kidnapping, and the Halls still don't know who their assailants were. Drug gangs in Mexico are known to wear police uniforms as a way to trap their victims. The story is narrated by Divinia, Chris, and Debra Hall. Other contributors: Lt. Dave Myers of the San Diego Sheriff's Department, John Schardt, Divinia's schoolmate; and "Maria", the Mexican woman who helped them. (P: Chuck Stevenson, Anthony Venditti, Gayane Keshishyan). 1/2/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Innocence Lost" - a follow-up to "Who Killed These Girls" (OAD: 03/25/92) and "Deadly Encounters" (OAD: 09/14/98). In December 1991, four teenage girls were found murdered in an Austin, Texas yogurt shop. The girls had been tied up, stripped down, at least one was raped, shot in the head and their naked bodies were stacked in a corner then set on fire. In the weeks after the murders, authorities received countless tips, many false confessions and even interrogated teenagers Maurice Pierce, Michael Scott, Robert Springsteen and Forrest Welborn. With no solid evidence, they were released. There were no developments in the investigation until 1999, when new detectives assigned to the case made the announcement that they had made four arrests: the same four suspects, whom police had interrogated to eight years earlier. The charges against Welborn and Pierce were dropped. Scott and Springsteen each stood trial for murder. Both were convicted, with Springsteen sentenced to death and Scott sentenced to life in prison. On appeal, the convictions were overturned when DNA evidence did not match any of the suspects. It was from an unknown male. The Travis County District Attorney, Rosemary Lehmborg, says there is no statute of limitations for murder, and they will continue the investigation until the person(s) responsible for these murders are brought to justice. For now Scott and Springsteen are free; and the girls' families are still dealing with the deaths of their daughters. Interviewed: John Jones, lead detective in 1991; Mike Huckabay, Jones' partner; Bob Ayers, Pam Ayers, Barbara Ayers-Wilson, Maria Thomas, parents of the victims; suspects Forrest Welborn, Robert Springsteen; Jim Sawyer, Springsteen's attorney; District Attorney Rosemary Lehmborg; Saul Kassin, psychology professor at John Jay College for Criminal Justice (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Gail Abbott Zimmerman, Peter Henderson). 1/9/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Buried Secrets of Las Vegas" - a report on the death of gaming tycoon Ted Binion, who was found dead in his Las Vegas home more than a decade ago. The son of legendary gambling impresario Benny Binion, Ted was a brilliant casino operator himself. Paranoid about his wealth, he stashed millions of dollars worth of silver in a hidden vault in Pahrump, Nevada. Ted was also addicted to smoking heroin. Prior to his death, he became involved with Sandy Murphy, and it was she who told police in September 1998 that she had found him dead of an apparent drug overdose. However Binion's sister, Becky Binion Behnen, insisted to police that this was no drug overdose and demanded an investigation. Police discovered that Sandy was having an affair with Rick Tabish, and theorized that they were trying to steal Ted's buried treasure. Both were charged with his murder and both were found guilty of murder in the first degree. While imprisoned, Sandy contacted Alan Dershowitz, who agreed to take on her appeal. The Nevada Supreme Court agreed with Dershowitz's arguments and overturned both convictions. After the second trial, both Murphy and Tabish were found not guilty of murder, but were found guilty of stealing Binion's buried silver from the Pahrump vault. Many believe that much of Binion's money is still missing. 48 HOURS retained ground sonar experts to search the Binion estate, which had remained empty since his death; nothing was found. Tabish remains in prison because of a prior record; Murphy returned to California where she married an art dealer. Tabish's latest bid for parole is under consideration. Murphy is suing the state of Nevada, alleging false imprisonment and malicious prosecution. Interviewed: Sandy Murphy; Wayne Newton, Las Vegas entertainer; Glenn Puit, author; Becky Binion Behnen, Ted's sister; Christine Lefkowitz, Las Vegas realtor; Wayne Peterson, the Las Vegas Police Lieutenant who led the investigation; Ed Howard, Nye County Police Lieutenant, who saw Tabish digging up the vault in Pahrump; Attorney Alan Dershowitz; Rainey Williams, evidence custodian; and Jared Lampe, ground penetrating radar technician. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Secret" - a report on the March 2007 disappearance of 911 operator Theresa Parker of LaFayette, Georgia. Theresa had recently separated from police officer husband Sam Parker, whom she had married in 1993. One night, after visiting her sister Christina Hall, Theresa vanished. Police found her car at Theresa and Sam's house, but there was no sign of her and no obvious signs of foul play. Police investigation revealed that Sam was an abusive husband with a drinking problem. When investigators found vacuum marks, Theresa's blood and Sam Parker's DNA in the back of Theresa's SUV, he was arrested and charged with his wife's murder. Prosecutors believed that Sam had murdered Theresa, drove off and disposed of her body. Parker insisted he had not killed his wife and suspected that she had run off to Mexico. The jurors said the task of deciding Sam Parker's fate was particularly daunting because they had an overwhelming amount of circumstantial evidence, but not much else. After three days of deliberation, the jurors seemed hopelessly deadlocked. The judge urged them to give it one more try. After a closer look at cell phone records, the jury found him guilty of first-degree murder. He was immediately sentenced to life in prison. Theresa's family believes that Parker may be the only one who holds the key to finding Theresa's body, but he still insists that he did not kill her and does not know where she is. Interviewed: Christina Hall; Sam Parker; Rhonda Knox, Theresa's friend and co-worker; Walker County

Sheriff Steve Wilson; Special Agent James Harris of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation; Kenneth Parker, Sam's brother; FBI Special Agent Marc Veazey; Defense Attorneys David Dunn and Doug Woodward; Prosecutor Leigh Patterson; Keila Beard, Sam Parker's former wife; unidentified members of the jury. (C: Tracy Smith - P: Marcelena Spencer). 1/30/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Thou Shalt Not Kill" - a report on the November 1994 murder of Farah Fratta, whose body was discovered in the garage of her Humble, Texas home. She had been shot twice in the head. At the time of her death, Farah was in the midst of a divorce. To the outside world, her husband Bob Fratta was an upstanding citizen, who worked in public safety as both a police officer and a fireman. But divorce documents were about to make his dark side public, revealing his strange sexual requests that not only embarrassed Farah, but also sickened her. Bob Fratta seemed the likeliest suspect in his wife's murder, but he had a seemingly airtight alibi: he was at church with their three children as his wife was being murdered. Investigators worked to build their case against Fratta, and four months later they got an unexpected break. Tracing his phone records from the night of his wife's murder led them to a mysterious woman, Mary Gipp, who claimed that she could have prevented Farah's murder. She knew that her boyfriend had been hired by Fratta to kill his wife. Informed by police that she would be charged with murder, she made a deal and was given immunity for her testimony. Her boyfriend, Joe Prystash, had been hired by Fratta to arrange the murder and Prystash had hired Howard Guidry to be the trigger man. Guidry and Prystash were arrested and confessed. Fratta was arrested and charged with murdering his wife. After the trial, it took less than one hour to convict him. He was sentenced to death, along with Prystash and Guidry. Thirteen years after the murder, a federal judge threw out Fratta's conviction and ordered a new trial because the judge said there was testimony linking Fratta to the murder that should never have been admitted. At the new trial, after two days of jury deliberation, Fratta was found guilty of capital murder. The jury decided to send Fratta back to death row. He now plans to appeal his conviction. Interviewed: Lex and Betty Baquer, Farah's parents; Kitty Waters Sneed, Farah's co-worker and closest friend; Detective Larry Davis; Bradley, Daniel and Amber Baquer, Farah and Bob Fratta's children; Mike Edens and Jimmy Podhorsky, who worked out at the gym with Fratta; Prosecutor Kelly Siegler; Mary Gipp, Prystash's girlfriend; social worker Judy Cox; Mike Charlton, Fratta's; Denise Bradley and Mia Magness, prosecutors for the second trial; Randy McDonald and Vivian King, Fratta's attorneys for the second trial. (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Patti Aronofsky, Jenna Jackson). 2/6/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "A Time To Kill" - A report on the September 12, 2001 disappearance of Michele Harris, a resident of Tioga County, New York. Michele, a mother of four, was involved in a bitter divorce with her husband, Cal Harris. He claimed she did not return home on the evening of September 11, 2001; her empty van was discovered at the end of their driveway the next morning. Cal denied any involvement and when no evidence was found during a search of the Harris home, he suggested to investigators that they take a closer look at Michele's personal life. Investigators uncovered that Michele was involved with two different men, both of whom had seen Michele the night she disappeared. Two days after the initial search, a forensic specialist was sent to the Harris home and found tiny specks of blood on a kitchen doorway, something that had been overlooked during the initial investigation. With the discovery of a possible crime scene, as well as Cal's refusal to take a polygraph, focus was placed on Cal, who began a relationship with a former girlfriend just eighteen days after Michele's disappearance. On September 30, 2005, Cal Harris was arrested and charged with murder. The trial began on May 21, 2007 and ultimately, he was found guilty of second degree murder. Just days before Cal Harris was to be sentenced, a new witness came forward and claimed to have driven past the Harris driveway around dawn on September 12, 2001 and had seen a man and a woman, who appeared to be arguing. According to this new eyewitness, the woman resembled Michele, but the man did not look like Cal. With this new information, the judge threw out Cal's conviction for the murder of his wife and ordered a new trial. It will be at least a year before Cal Harris is tried again. Update for this second rebroadcast: In July of 2009, Cal Harris once again went on trial. After a three-week trial, the jury found him guilty again. Harris was sentenced to twenty-five years to life in prison. He plans to appeal for a third trial. The search for Michele's body continues. (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Lisa Freed, Marc B. Goldbaum) (OAD: 11/10/07; 1st rebroadcast: 06/24/08, which includes brief update in the form of an onscreen text graphic at the conclusion; this 2nd rebroadcast (02/13/10) includes new video footage and an updated text graphic from the second (2009) trial.) 2/13/10
